

I signed up for the do not call law because I was being harassed by telemarketers every night. I don't think they have the right to call me if I have specifically requested not to be disturbed by them. Please respect my right to say no. Sincerely, Karen Ganssle